

TRAIL FEATURES

MILE	TRAIL FEATURE	VEGETATION
0.0	Two Peak Trail forks southeast off FDR #266 across from OM/Sage/Snowberry/ Gander Pond and Beaver Trail intersection. Trail heads along private land fenceline.	Aspen
0.11	Trail descends to and crosses draw (branch of Stubb Creek) in meadow below aspen stand.
0.17	Trail reenters aspen stand, climbing at moderate grade. Aspen/Snowberry/	Serviceberry
0.26	Trail crosses branch of Stubb Creek.
0.33	Trail reaches gate-fenceline, also fence corner of private land.
0.43	Trail descends on slumping hillside in aspen stand, marshy area below trail.
0.56	Trail breaks out of aspen stand, climbing at moderate grade OM/Aspen/Snow- on open hillside. Good view of Lenna Peak to northwest. berry/Serviceberry
0.66	Two-track forks right (south) off Two Peak Trail on open hillside below aspen stand. Two track dead ends at edge of aspen at stock pond. Two Peak Trail heads northeast on left fork towards Hightower Mt.
0.75	Trail reenters aspen stand, descends at moderate grade. Aspen/Snowberry
0.87	Trail crosses draw at edge of aspen stand and private land OM/Snowberry/ fenceline, begins climbing onto open hillside.	Aspen
1.0	Trail climbs at steep grade on open hillside, large stock pond visible in drainage below (Stubb Creek) to west/northwest.
1.09	Trail levels out on open hillside, begins descending gradually toward aspen stand. Trail travels on northeastern flank of Two Peak.

- 1.22 Trail re-enters aspen stand, begins climbing at moderate to Aspen/Snowberry/
steep grade. Serviceberry
- 1.39 Trail levels out, Porter Mt. now visible to southeast.
- 1.65 Trail travels along Porter Creek on bench.
- 1.72 Trail crosses large, rocky drainage (Porter Creek).
- 1.75 Trail climbs away from Porter Creek toward aspen stand.
A well defined two-track forks left (northeast) off trail and heads down drainage toward Lowell Flat. Two Peak Trail stays on right fork heading east/southeast up Porter Creek.
- 1.92 Trail climbs gradually in open aspen on east side of Porter Creek.
- 2.13 Trail descends on bench above Porter Creek. One of peaks of Two Peak now visible to southwest.
- 2.21 Beaver ponds visible in Porter Creek below trail. Trail travels on eastern flank of Two Peak.
- 2.27 Trail crosses a side branch of Porter Creek, then begins climbing
SF/Aspen
at steep grade.
- 2.54 Trail climbs at moderate grade in open aspen.
- 2.76 Trail climbs gradually heading southeast along east side of Porter Aspen/
Creek in open aspen, both peaks of Two Peak now visible
Snowberry
- 3.0 Trail has been travelling on bench in open aspen above creek, now breaks out of aspen. Beaver lodges, dams, and felled trees visible along drainage.
- 3.06 Trail descends to creek, is in poor condition along creek.
- 3.14 Trail climbs back away from creek onto bench. Trail appears to have crossed Porter Creek at this location in the past but beaver dams now prevent crossing. A well defined two-track is visible on opposite side of creek.
- 3.17 Trail descends back to creek.

- 3.22 Trail climbs back away from creek onto bench, is in poor condition.
- 3.28 Trail passes through old fenceline on bench in open aspen.
- 3.37 Trail climbs gradually in open aspen.
- 3.49 Trail breaks out of aspen, begins descending towards Porter Creek and creek crossing. Descent to creek very steep and difficult. Plateau Ridge visible up drainage to south/southwest.